About us

Our farm is located in a small village near famous Meteora, including unique ecological, cultural and agricultural characteristics. Our vision and master plan is to help the Sustainable and Rural Development of the area. We cultivate organic sea buckthorn, aromatic plants and dogwood (Cornus mas) in a remote area but with many activities you can find nearby.

What we expect from trainee

The trainee could gain from us practical skills about organic cultivation but also the theoretical background about SRD from our specialized scientists and organizations we are working with. We expect to be ready to assist us in the activities on the field (depending on the period) but also sharing ideas about the next step the farm is willing to make: working all year round as a open farm to the public. The trainee should be ready for a spherical indoor and outdoor experience in the context of SRD!
