About us

Cultivate (the trading name for Sustainable Ireland Cooperative Society) is a worker's cooperative focused on sustainability and community resilience. We are based in Ireland's only ecovillage in Cloughjordan, Co Tipperary, a rural village in the midlands of Ireland.

Our core work is focused on education and awareness around sustainability, environmental and rural issues, and takes many forms - from courses and workshops, research and consultancy, to festivals and arts events.

We work closely with a number of national and international like-minded organisations, as well as joint projects with organisations in Cloughjordan including Sustainable Projects Ireland (the Cloughjordan Ecovillage registered charity), Cloughjordan Community Farm, ARC2020 (Oliver Moore), Cloughjordan Arts and WeCreate Workspace and Fab Lab.

What we expect from trainee

Trainees will be contributing members of teams delivering conferences, events, courses, festivals, and the follow up activities from Feeding Ourselves - an event centred around agro-ecology and local food producers. All of these, based in our rural location in Co Tipperary, Ireland, feed into our current development of policy positions, rural dialogues and the development of an Irish Rural Parliament. This work can then be part of the reporting for the scholarship programme.
